

Get your #PackagingGAMEface on!

New Vision Packaging are bringing their packaging GAME face to Pro2Pac, are you?

The team at New Vision Packaging have created a G.A.M.E plan that we'll be discussing this with visitors to our stand during Pro2Pac;

Generate true and long-lasting partnerships

Adapt to your needs and wants

Manage cost-effective packaging solutions

Enable your products to stand-out on shelf

We're launching our #PackagingGameFace competition and we want to see you bring your game faces to Pro2Pac. Visit stand N832, discuss your packaging needs with our team, then capture your #PackagingGameFace and link to our twitter account @nvplovesboxes, to be in with a chance to win a series 2 Apple Watch.

Stephen Shortland, owner of New Vision Packaging, said "Our G.A.M.E plan was created to give clients a clear understanding our our core values. Packaging design and supply will be the subject of many conversations for those visiting Pro2Pac, but by engaging the visitors to our stand with a fun competition we can show them that packaging can have personality too. Often, companies deserve better packaging than they're currently getting, and so we're inviting them to raise their game and get their #PackagingGameFace on by working with New Vision Packaging "
